A letter from the owner

Dear Future Homeowner,

This has been a really special place to call home.

The lake views and the CN Tower skyline are pretty great, but what we've loved most are the everyday moments - the ones that don't always make it into listing photos.

Like making morning coffee in the kitchen, where there's actually enough storage to keep things tidy. Lazy Sundays in a bedroom with plenty of space for a large bed - plus all the things that seem to pile up over time. And the dedicated home office space that made working from home way more manageable.

The building itself has been a bonus - well-run, low fees, and a community where people actually know each other. Some of our closest friendships started here, whether at the gym, on the basketball court, or during our annual community BBQ.

We're sad to be leaving, but happy to know someone new will get to enjoy this place. Hope you love it as much as we have.

All the best,

Anthony

15 Fort York has maintained attractive condo fees by making key early investments in energy-efficient upgrades, such as high-efficiency boilers, variable frequency drives, a building automation system, LED lighting, garbage compaction, among other key solutions. These upgrades have paid for themselves through lower energy and maintenance costs, and the annual savings have been reinvested into both the reserve fund and keeping condo fees low.

Even with major upgrades and building-wide renovations, the reserve fund remains over $4 million - well above comparable condos. Furthermore, the reserve fund study was updated last year, minimizing the risk of unexpected increases to reserve funding requirements in the foreseeable future. With a strong financial cushion, the building is well-prepared for future repairs and replacements.

One often overlooked factor when buying a condo is elevator capacity. In buildings with limited elevator capacity, an out-of-service elevator can quickly turn condo living into an inconvenience.

One of the less glamorous (but very important!) reasons we love 15 Fort York is its high elevator capacity. With four elevators serving 436 units in the 15 Fort York tower, our building offers better access than some neighbouring towers - even if one elevator cab is on hold for move-ins or maintenance!

Canoe Landing Child Care Centre provides high quality care and enriched learning for your children. With before and after school care located in Bishop MacDonnell Catholic School and Jean Lumb Public School, a well-equipped playground, summer programs, and nutritionist-approved, freshly made lunches and snacks, your child will thrive at Canoe Landing.

Jean Lumb Public School is a modern K-8 school at 20 Brunel Court in Toronto, sharing a building with the Canoe Landing Community Centre and Child Care Centre. It has 16 classrooms, including four kindergarten rooms, plus arts, science, and music spaces. Built with sustainability in mind, it features a green roof, solar panels, and LED lighting, supporting a student body of about 550.

Bishop Macdonell Catholic School is a K-8 Catholic school at 20 Brunel Court, sharing facilities with Jean Lumb Public School and the Canoe Landing Community Centre. As the Toronto Catholic District School Board's first STEAM-focused school, it emphasizes science, technology, engineering, arts, and math.
